

November 2024

Community Foundations are pretty complex. With endowments, investments, legal requirements, and more, it can be a lot to understand.

But what's not complicated is our mission – Cultivating resources to enhance life in Rush County. It's our new mission statement born from our soon-to-be-released strategic plan. We connect donors to causes that matter most to them, award grants & scholarships, and take a leadership role in community initiatives.

Since Community Foundation Week starts November 12, what better time to roll out the ABCs of RCCF? Look for these new, snack-size facts next week on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter/X. If you're ready to dig into the main course, here's a short piece you can think of as Community Foundations 101.

Our goal is always to have as many people to the table as possible. We're so grateful to you, Lisa, for pulling up a seat!

$39,989 Awarded in Cycle II Community Grants

Community Grants provide support to our local nonprofits, where it's needed most. Applicants make the case for their project or program. Our grants committee weighs the applications against the needs and interests of the community. They make the tough decisions – stewarding our donors' gifts with integrity and offering their recommendations. The board has final approval. Once this process is complete, your gifts get to work empowering our nonprofits to lift up our community!

Which organizations shared nearly $40,000 this cycle?
